change. CURIOSITIES OF THE WORLE.

Dr. Delannay, in a paper read recently before the Freuch Academy of Medicine, g zes some details on the history and limit of the human voice, which he obtained after much patient research. According tothe doctor, the primitive inhabitants of Europe were all tenore; their descendants of the present day are baritones, and their grandsons will have sens-bass voices. Look-, ing at different tuces, he calls attention tothe fact that inferior onces, such as the negroes, &c., have higher voices than white men. The voice has also a tendency to deepen with age-the tenor at sixteen becoming the baritone at twenty-five, and bass at thirty-five. Pair-complexioned people have higher voices than the dark skinned, the former being a mally sopranos of tenors, the latter contraltos or basses, Tenors, says the doctor, are slenderly built and thin : basses are stoutly made and corpulent. This may be so, as a rule, but one is inclined to think there are more exceptions to it than are necessary to prove the rule. The same remark applies to the assertion that thoughtful, intelligent men have always a deep-toned voice; whereas triflers and frivolous persons have soft, heak voices. The tones of the voice are perceptibly higher, he points out, before Why is matrimony, like a sterling coin? than after a meal, which is the reason why tenors dine early, in order that the voice may not suffer. The South, says the doctor, furnishes the tenors, the North the basses; in proof of which he adds that the majority of French tenors in vogue come from the south of France, while the basses belong to the north department.

_____ AN UNFORTUNATH ANSWERL

Says the Richmond Register: Lacton Young's noble action a few years ago, to saving several lives from a wrocked versed will be remembered; also, the action of the Kentucky Legislature in publicly recognising his service. A few weeks since he was penitentlary, where he met Sam Holmes, confined for the marder of Colonel Napies, Young and Holmes were boys together at school, and fast friends, Young was greatly moved by Holmes' unfortunate condition, and determined to make an effort for his release. To this end he called on the Governor, and made an earnest appeal for a pardon. The Governor relented, and the pardon was made out and signed. With the document in his pocket, Young hastened back to the prison to tell the good news to his friend. Before telling him, however, that he had come to make him a free man, Young quietly commenced a conversation, and, after talking a while upon other sub-
